12 Liability of the Hotel

12.1 Liability of the Hotel is subject to articles 1952 – 1954 of the French Civil Code. In summary of the French original:

- Article 1952: Innkeepers or hoteliers shall be responsible, as depositaries, for clothing, luggage and miscellaneous objects brought into their establishment by the guest; the deposit of these kinds of effects must be regarded as a necessary deposit.
- Article 1953: Innkeepers or hoteliers are responsible for the theft or damage of these effects, whether the theft was committed or the damage caused by their employees, or by third parties linked to the hotel. This liability is unlimited, notwithstanding any clause to the contrary, in the event of theft or damage to objects of any kind deposited in their hands or which they have refused to receive without legitimate reason. In all other cases, the compensation due to the traveller is, to the exclusion of any lower contractual limitation, limited to the equivalent of one hundred times the rental price of the accommodation per day, except if the guest proves that the damage is the fault of the hotel or of any person for whom they are responsible.
- Article 1954: Innkeepers or hoteliers are not liable for theft or damage that occurs by force majeure, nor for loss that results from the nature or defect of the thing, provided they prove the facts that they allege.
- By way of derogation from the provisions of Article 1953, innkeepers or hotel keepers shall be liable for objects left in vehicles parked on the premises for their exclusive use, up to fifty times the rental price of the accommodation per day.
- Articles 1952 and 1953 shall not apply to live animals.

13 Final provisions

13.1 These terms and conditions are subject to French law.

13.2 Individual agreements shall take precedence over the corresponding provisions of these Terms to the extent that they expressly contain deviations from these Terms. All other provisions of these terms and conditions shall continue to apply.

13.3 The Hotel has the right to change these conditions. The amended terms and conditions shall apply until (i) they are available on the website of the hotel or (ii) the contract partner and / or the guest, depending on which event is noted as the first entry. The new version is then also valid for guests whose stay begins on or after the validity date of the new version.

13.4 The Hotel shall not be liable for cases in which the services cannot be provided or cannot be provided in full as requested by the Party or Guest due to force majeure.

General terms and conditions: accommodation agreement (hereinafter “the T&Cs”)

1 Scope

- 1.1 These terms and conditions apply to the temporary and remunerated provision of conference, banquet and event rooms, as well as premises for the hosting of events, banquets, conferences, etc., in addition to all services and deliveries provided in connection with this, including any advance services provided to the Organiser.
- 1.1 Any terms and conditions supplied by the Organiser shall not apply unless otherwise agreed previously in writing. This also applies to the reversal of the requirement for the written form. 4 Prices

5 Advance payment, guarantee, billing

- 5.1 The Hotel is entitled to request an advance payment of up to 100% of the agreed compensation for its services (incl. value-added tax). This payment may be made by bank transfer or by credit card. The advance payment amount will be credited to the bill in full, albeit without interest.
- 5.2 Unless agreed otherwise, the advance payment is due without reminder upon receipt of the last written reservation confirmation at the latest. All bank transfer costs shall be borne by the customer.

- 5.3 If the advance payment made by the event guest exceeds the balance to be paid, the difference will be re-credited to the account used to make the advance payment. Under no circumstances is it possible to make a cash payment or to re-credit the excess balance to a different account to the one used to make the original payment.
- 5.4 All bills are generally issued to the Organiser for payment in Euros (EUR). If a special method of billing or splitting of the bill is desired, the Hotel must be notified of this before the event.

- 6.4 The final headcount must be reported to the Hotel in writing no later than four days before the event. If the effective headcount is lower, the final confirmed headcount will be taken as a basis for invoicing; if it is higher, the Hotel offers no guarantee that all guests can be accommodated. The additional costs incurred as a result of extra participants will be charged to the Organiser.
- 6.5 The Hotel is entitled to charge for additional costs arising from short-notice changes to the event, including the menu, seating arrangements, room set-up and headcount.

- 13.2 If the Hotel procures against payment for temporary use technical and other equipment from third parties for the guest at their request and on their behalf, this shall always be done in the name of and on account of the event guest. The event guest is liable for the careful handling of the equipment provided to them, as well as for the proper return of the same. The guest shall hold the Hotel harmless from all third-party claims arising from or in connection with the temporary provision of this equipment.

14 Copyrights / licences

- 14.1 The event guest shall report services and actions that are connected with licensing rights, copyrights, personality rights and rights of use to the competent authorities and/or collecting societies on its own initiative and without solicitation. The Hotel reserves the right to grant the event guest – against payment of a fee – a time-limited, non-exclusive licensing right to use the brands and/or logos of which it is the proprietor. However, the customer shall have no entitlement to the granting of licensing rights.

15 Withdrawal / cancellation of banquet room hire

15.1 All cancellations must be made in writing.

15.2 A cancellation of the entire booking must take place more than 60 days before the start of the event, depending on the room booked. Later cancellations will be subject to the following fees:

- 60 to 32 days before the event: 100% of the room hire price

 - From 13 days before the event: 100% of the room hire price plus 100% of the revenue lost according to the confirmation (excl. drinks)
- 15.3 For cancellations 32 days and more before the event, any advance services rendered and paid for by the Hotel will be charged (unless they can be cancelled free of charge).
- 15.4 In the event of the illegal or image-damaging use of the hired premises, the Hotel may withdraw from the contract or interrupt events in progress.
